OBJECTIVES:

- developing and deepening the knowledge of eduLARP methodology among non-formal education trainers and youth leaders
- exchange of experiences and knowledge of youth workers and trainers in conducting activities using game-based methods, storytelling, drama etc.
- creating methodology, instructions and guidelines for non-formal education trainers in the youth sector in the form of a manual and a website
- defining the role of eduLARP methodology in achieving the objectives of the Erasmus + program in the context of European Training Strategy and competence model of trainers in Erasmus +.
- preparing youth workers to run and facilitate international youth exchanges with the methodology of eduLARP

LARP (Live Action Role Play Game) is a combination of game, simulation and improvised theater. Educational LARPs consist of a storytelling part in which the context and the world that participants operate in is described, the creation of characters that participants become and the rules of the game that everyone plays. LARPs can also involve some additional elements like props, scenography and intrigues that together create the complete story. This story lets participants experience unknown and play the game in the way that emphasis valuable content, as well as develop their competences: knowledge, skills and attitudes.

The concept of LARP is well known around the world, but can it be used for educational proposes? Educational LARPs are based on the achievements of different types of LARPs: chamber LARPs, Nordic LARPs, or simply drama theater and simulation methods, but how can we adopt it to the learning objectives of participants. However, methodology adopted to the context of youth work and Erasmus+ program is not yet developed. We will change it.

The effect of this training will be a comprehensive manual explaining the idea of eduLARP in youth work in the context of Erasmus + program and providing concrete learning scenarios, as well as team of youth leaders ready to facilitate youth exchange with LARP methodology in September 2019.

TARGET GROUP:

Training course is dedicated to youth workers and youth leaders who have previous experience in facilitation of non-formal education activates and are working directly with young people in their countries. Previous experience in LARP is not required.

NOTE: Training aims to summarize the experience of the LARP youth exchange in September in Berlin and prepare youth leaders for their role during the youth exchange in November. All participants of the training should take part in at least one of the exchanges.

VENUE:

Project will take place in Łopuszna - small village around 100 km south from Krakow. This is Tatra Mountain region that will welcome you with beautiful landscapes, lakes and old castles. As LARP aims to take participants to the different world, we also decided to take you to a beautiful place, far from city mess that will be an escape from daily reality.

We we will stay in Hotel Natanael. It offers decent standard inside and a huge green space outside that we can use for our miniLARPS.

INSURANCE:

During all three events organisers will provide an accident and liability insurance for the whole group. The insurance doesn't cover the medical treatment therefore every participant is obliged to bring their European Insurance Card.

HOW TO GET THERE:

Traveling to the venue from Krakow City Center may take around two hours. It requires using regional busses with one change on the way. In order to make it more simple and comfortable for you we decided to book a private bus what will take us from Krakow directly to the hotel. We will do the same for the way back.

Therefore, we will meet the whole group in the city center of Krakow on 11.10.2019 (arrival day) at 18:00 and travel all together. It is very important that you arrive to Krakow before, because later it will be hard for you to get to the venue. So, plan you're travel in the way that you land in Krakow airport not later than 16:30. If the only flight from your country arrives later, consider coming the day before.

On the departure day we will leave the venue at 8:00, so you will be in Krakow around 10:00, again try to book flights that depart in the afternoon.

The bust costs around 8 EUR one way (depends how many of us will catch it) so consider this cost while planing your travel budget.

If it is impossible for you to travel with the whole group please let us know your arrival and departure time. We will find the best connection for you and guide you how to get to the venue.

MEETING POINT:

The meeting point to catch the bus to the venue will be Krakow main railways station. Krakow Railways Station is integrated with the shopping mall, we will wait for you on the place in front of the main entrance to the shopping mole - direction old own. Look carefully at the map, because there is more than one entrance to the building.
